Dear Mr. Alarie,

Warning!

A controversial art project has placed a virtual 3D bomb in the Stock Exchange Tower.

I really doubt this!

with the help of the associated detonator, the project boasts, one day you will be able to bomb away all undesirable and sometimes risky augmented reality trash which has accumulated in the tower: bleached aliens, brutal killer zombies, flying adult material, you name it. However, the so-called art projject doesn't tell you how to bomb away the bomb.

For a bomb free augmented future!
